

LABEL THE PARTS OF A COTTON PLANT

WORD BANK

Leaf Ripening Boll

Stem Roots

Flower Boll

provides a carbohydrate energy supply for adding nodes, and branches and for growing bolls.

supports the plant, transports nutrients, and provides a framework for the plant's leaves, flowers, and fruit.

anchors the plant in the soil, absorb water and nutrients, and produces gossypol.

the fruit of the cotton plant, and it protects the cotton seeds and helps disperse them.

the reproductive part of the plant that produces seeds that contain cotton fibers.

protects the cotton seeds and helps disperse them.

PARTS OF A BOLL

WORD BANK

Bur Bracts Lint Seed

Kansas Foundation for AGRICULTURE
IN THE CLASSROOM

LABEL THE PARTS OF A COTTON PLANT

Word Bank

Ripening Boll

Leaf

Bur

Seed

Stem

Roots

Lint

Flower

Boll

Bracts

provides a carbohydrate energy supply for adding nodes, and branches and for growing bolls.

supports the plant, transports nutrients, and provides a framework for the plant's leaves, flowers, and fruit.

the fruit of the cotton plant, and it protects the cotton seeds and helps disperse them.

anchors the plant in the soil, absorb water and nutrients, and produces gossypol.

protects the cotton seeds and helps disperse them.

the reproductive part of the plant that produces seeds that contain cotton fibers.