

All Powered Up

Research the life cycle of the crops pictured below. Each of these foods can be harvested mechanically. After evaluating their lifecycle, research the process and requirements of harvesting. Your research should lead you to a list of criteria or traits that improve the likelihood of successful mechanical harvest. Record your notes in the space below and on the back of this sheet.

