

Note: "Organic" is labelling claim that describes how an agricultural food or fiber product was grown and handled before it reached the consumer. Organic requirements apply to farmers who grow plants and animals, and to processors and handlers who turn agricultural products into food or other consumer products.