

Pigs on the farm originally came from wild boars.

Pigs have 5 toes, just like humans.

A baby pig is called a piglet.

Pigs only come in one size and color.

Pigs are very smart. They can be trained to do tricks just like a dog.

Pigs wallow in water or mud to stay cool.

Pigs have very good eyesight.

Pigs eat corn, grains, and soybean meal.

All pigs are kept inside barns.

A mother pig has between 3 and 5 piglets in every litter.

Pigs grow very quickly. They will weigh over 200 pounds when they are 6 months old.

Most pigs are raised for their meat.

If you visit a fair, you will not see pigs.