

A Farmers Work Day

A Poem By: Catherine Kopp

Corn and milk, it's all from your farm,
Chickens and eggs let's get in the barn.

There is work to be done and cows to be fed,
Today is the day we are not going to bed.

I hop in my tractor I'm ready to plow,
But the sun is starting to set and my wife says "Come in now!"

I hop off my tractor,
And jump in my truck.

It's been a long day work,
But I've had lots of good luck!
