Cows and Bulls 101

Here are some amazing facts

Fact #1 Did you ever know where milk comes from? A majority of people think that milk comes from a supermarket, or perhaps, 50 years ago, the milkman. But in reality, milk comes from arguably the world's most important mammal, The dairy cow.

Fact #2 Only female cows can give milk. A "Boy cow" is called a bull.

Fact #3 Only female cows have udders, Bulls do not, milk comes out of the udder(s)

Fact #4 Chocolate milk does not come from brown cows, Chocolate milk is made by adding chocolate flavor to milk.

Fact #5 Cows eat lots, and lots of grains, corn, grass, and hay. Because they have 5 stomachs, an average cow eats about 100 pounds a day.

Fact #6 The average cow also produces about 7 gallons of milk per day.

Let's not take dairy cows for granted, for some of our favorite foods, snacks, and cheeses comes from milk, such as ice cream, pudding, cheese, and milk chocolate.
