

Breathing Soil Into Your Classroom

Presented by Stephen and Taylor Tillinghast, Agricultural Education teachers at Jenks Public Schools

Thursday July 30 Session 3 PM 3:30-4:20

HIGH SCHOOL/MIDDLE SCHOOL FOCUS

Breathing Soil Into Your Classroom: When your lessons in the classroom lack energy and enthusiasm, we might be encouraged to find ways to breathe life into what we are doing. The answer to your problem might just be found in the soil beneath your feet! Let's use the most foundational component of life to give your agricultural lessons more structure, texture and purpose. After all, the soil is alive!
