ELEMENTARY FOCUS

Pancakes, Please: "First Things First" in the realm of social emotional learning is the foundation of this lesson. Looking for fun lessons to help your classroom's SEL needs? Look no further than Oklahoma Ag in the Classroom lessons. This session stemmed from the SEL program with middle school students studying "Seven Highly Effective Habits for Kids." Following the step by step recipe for pancakes is a must for the pancake to turn out to be worthwhile to eat. Just like our social emotional needs, we must have our life in order and understand how to put first things first to grow and learn as humans. We will look at the childhood book, "Give a Pig a Pancake." That gets us up and moving to discover the history of the pancake...includes an Iceman. The best part of this lesson is baking a hot, fluffy, mouth watering pancake to enjoy. Join us for Pancakes, Please!
