Chickens

OKLAHOMA AG IN THE CLASSROOM

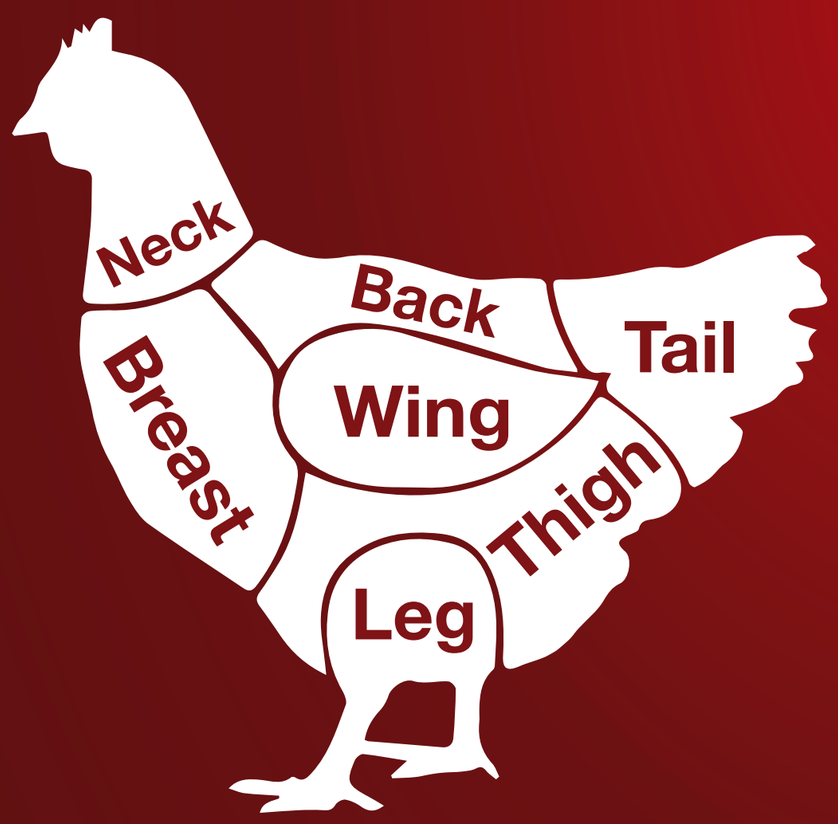

Parts of an Egg

Laying Hens

A female chicken kept primarily for the production of eggs.

Producers and processors of broilers and eggs employ over 30,000 individuals across the state.

Broiler Chicken

A fast-growing chicken bred specifically for meat, typically ready for market in 6–8 weeks. They are raised for muscle development and a major global source of protein. 24 grams of protein per 4 oz of chicken breast.

Where are most chickens grown in Oklahoma?

Oklahoma has approximately 1350 farms, primarily located in eastern OK.

Eggs support muscle growth, heart health, and strengthens bones.

Poultry is top 3 commodity in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma ranks 14th in the nation for broiler production.